Pilot Injured in Crash After Buzzing Village

Cessna Hits Near Homes

A light plane which had been reported to police and airport of-ficials for "buzzing" the down-town area, carried its 48-year-old Los Angeles motel executive pilot to a spectacular crash in a residential area here on Christmas

Hospitalized with major injuries was Owen King, 12018 Coyne Street, Los Angeles, president of Auto Lodge Corp., who suffered a broken shoulder, multiple lacerations which needed several stitches, and shock.

AIRPORT AUTHORITIES, who were waiting for King to land his plane at the airport, moved the wreckage and said that the Cess-na 170 had plenty of gasoline, but that the pilot had apparently not opened the fuel line.

In reconstruction of the crash,
Sgt, Robert Ralph and officer J.
R. Wahlberg said that King apparently ran out of gas in one tank, and failing to change over to a full tank, attempted to crash land his plane. He brought the plane down on a lot near Via Mira-leste and some 200 feet from Alejo Road.

ACCORDING TO the police re port, in the attempt to land the tri-cycle landing gear broke, and the plane jumped a dirt road and turned upside down. The engine was torn from the fuselage by the force of the crash.

Desert Hospital officials said to-ay that despite his injuries. day that despite his injuries, King's condition is reported as

Dennis Day to Be Star

Chi Chi Feature On Dec. 31

Most Irish tenors are having difficulty finding work these days but not Owen Patrick McNulty. Owen, who is better known to the masses as Dennis Day, opens at the Chi Chi here on New Year's Eve, in what is just another stop for the busy, globe-trotting singer.
Actually, the title of singer simply doesn't cover Dennis Day.

HE IS (AND HAS been featured as) a mimic, a comedian — even an actor. And therein lies the rea-son why Owen Patrick hasn't joined his fellow tenors down at the Dennis Day always had the flair for comedy but it took the old master, Jack Benny, to really "discover" it. After Kenny Baker left Benny's radio show back in 1939, Dennis Day was one of more than two dozen tenors to audition for the vacancy. Benny was act ally in the studio when Dennis was called to sing in tryout. When his name was called, Dennis responded>

WASHINGTON - (UPI) - The political party of the incumbent President normally loses Congressional seats in mid - term elec-tions. In five such elections during the past 20 years, the administration's party lost from one to 12 Senate seats, for an average of six, and from 18 to 71 Hou seats, an average of 43.

A SHOWMAN'S SHOWMAN is Dennis Day, who opens up a Chi Chi engagement with a New Year's Eve show that is bound to include most of the favorites that the Irish tenor has made popular during his nearly two decades in show biz. Dennis headlines an all-star program for the Chi Chi holiday show.

After hearing Harry Belafonte sing "Matilda" when the two were booked into different clubs in Las Vegas during 1957, Dennis sat down and did a quick parody which he entitled "Machush-la" and on Stanley Holloway, with a routine — plucked by bits and pleces — from "My Fair Lady." Also in the Day repertoire — and the reason he escapes classification as "another singer" — are tunes that range all the way from Yiddish folk songs to grand opera. He sings in Spanish, in Russian, in Swedish, in Italian, in Japanese, in German, and in Greek. He also sings in a couple of tongues that haven't been invented yet, including something that approaches Sanskrit.

Is NATO Too Big?

PARIS, FRANCE - W. Randolph Burgess, our "other" ambassador to Paris, could be called without injustice the "speaking sphinx." That is to say, he talks but manages to remain as uncommunicative as stone when it comes to the 15-nation "con-federation" of NATO, at which Mr Burgess represents the Unit-

For some 50 minutes the other day, before about half that many reporters, the Ambassador ver-bally ducked and weaved with such sinusity that, had he been a needle shower bath, he might have remained dry-skin-

TRUE, THIS conference was a backgrounder," which means no quotations or attributions. But the purpose of a backgrounder is to convey information. In this in-stance, the Ambassador might as well have had lockjaw for all e news that was imparted. The complaint is not so much against Ambassador Burgess, a courtly and conscientious gentle-man, as against the institution behind him. NATO began almost 10 years ago as a military alli-ance of the Western allies against Russia. It differed from the or-dinary alliance in that the United States shipped over in nom cetime five divisions of ground troops, a large number of air units and also assigned the Sixth Fleet, operating in the Mediterranean.

IT IS WRONG — increasingly wrong — to think of NATO merely as a military structure. It is now many things else. The North Atlantic Council meets in Paris much as a government cabinet would meet in any national capital.

In addition to Mr. Burgess,
Secretary Dulles sits for the State Department, Secretary McElroy for Defense, and Under Secretary Scribner for the Treasury. In short, about one-third of American executive departments

THERE IS MORE. Recently NATO resolved itself into a cor-poration and manufactured the first "international" airplane. Last month NATO's Secretary-General, Paul Henri Spaak, addressed the fourth annual confer-ence of NATO "parliamentarence of NATO "parliamentarians." He greeted his audience like countrymen, calling the m

"good Atlanteans. ntioning Khrushchev and the latest Berlin crisis Mr "Perhaps we ought to thank him" for the togetherness of NA-TO. The Secretary-General then went on to speak of five activities" in which NATO is engaged: economic, scientific, military, cultural and political. The order of reference is his.

WELL, YOU SEE what we have here. It is not yet a supergovernment, but it is beginning to quack like one. In that case, NATO, and most especially its Council of Ministers, ought to be much more open to public in-pection than it is. The ministers meet in clos sessions, at the end of which statements are issued. This is not the way of free assembly. Undoubtedly, the Council generates heated exchanges on national and internal matters.

FRANCE UNDER de Gaulle is feeling her oats. West Germany with the Berlin crisis and a new personality in Mayor Willy Brandt is making news. It aly has registered some jealousy over the Franco-German prom inence. Greece and Turkey want to talk Cyprus, but not on British terms. The United States ald very much like to suggest that the European allies stop being so naive about the transition into atomic weapons.

If there were no chance of a news leak, I think the American representatives might even whack the table a few times and demand that sophisticated indus-

THESE ARE controversial matters, capable of stirring much nationalistic wrath. But that is no excuse for hush-hush. If NATO is to be a para-governmental structure, it must give up the privileges of a mere alliance NATO can't have it both ways.

What goes on here? At bottom there is a division of intention between the NATO statesmen and peoples. The former are ob-sessed, along with this whole generation of giganticism in states-manship, with the vision of a super-nation clustered around the Atlantic Ocean as an interior lake, extending from the Bering Sea to the Bosporus.

ATLANTEA (MR. Spaak's term) would be only the center of empire. The effort to reach 'underdeveloped areas' would continue. So would the arms race and propaganda assault upon satellite and uncom-mitted nations. In other words, the vision of Atlantea is not one of a withdrawn, self - sufficient, isolated association of Christian peoples. It is a half-global gov ernment with ambitions to glo-

Against this gaudy apparition of the statesmens' minds stands the peoples' choice, which is, if I am right, to use NATO to preserve these 15 nations, not merge them. The military alli-ance was joined for that purpose. It has blocked off the European heartland from Soviet advance. It has established a united cluster of bayonets.

But success is dynamic. With bayonets, you can do anything except sit on them. And so? Well, it is a fair question as to whether the statesmen or the people are to prevail. This wouldn't be the first time that men built a machine which they could not control.

Only trouble is, I can't think of a one of them now.

ONE OF THE NICEST touches of the days just before Christ-mas, was the appearance of Palm Springs' own troubador. Tex Kidwell, who went up and down the Drive, appearing in various establishments, singing Christmas carols to the accomp-

THIS ALUMINUM comes in rolls and you will need a tin clipper to cut it to desired lengths. With a hammer and a block of wood it is not difficult to pound the metal into the soil where you want the edge of grass to stop.

To obtain the best results the aluminum in the finished job should be very slightly above the ground line but lower than the point to which you set the cutter of your lawn mower. The controlng aluminum should last quite a few years.

IN THE OLD DAYS weeds such as plantain, dandelions etc., gave the gardener a backbreaking job pulling them out; today we have a much lighter chore. 2-4D, if applied according to directions, will satisfactorily eliminate these and other weeds. Actually it will kill most weeds before they show up Crabgrass is not so easily handled but the new killers of crabgrass which your nurseryman car-ries will eventually do the job. However, the time when you have the thought of raising a new lawn is the correct time to obliterate all weeds, including crabgrass; this can be accomplished by the use of fumigants which are blended especially for this task.

THEN, UNLESS weed seeds are blown in on, the wind you should have no trouble along these lines. THIS IS NOT really necessary; if you see tan colored moths flit-ting around and in the grass you'll know you have sodworms, the mothers or maybe fathers are the tan colored moths who them selves have been sodworms. White moths are also parents of similar pests who enjoy tender roots. For hot, humid weather there are other pest-killing fumicides, cad-

60,000 Expected For Shrine Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)-East meets West in the 34th renewal of the Shrine classic before 60,000 fans in Kezar Stadium Saturday-with the boys from the other side of the Mississippi installed as one-touchdown

THE WEST WAS expected to start Lee Grosscup, Utah, quarter-back; Leon Burton, Arizona State University, left half; Boyd Bowl-er, Colorado, right half; and Nub

Beamer, Oregon State, fullback.
The teams will run through light and final workouts today. West cosch Jack Curtice of Stanford was expected to announce his lineup after the workout.

Thursday both squads worked out in the morning, then attended Christmas party in the after-

"WE HAD ONE of our best workouts," said Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin, assistant East coach. "We spent a full hour on offense and even got in a half hour on de-fense. That makes a total of one and one-half hours we've had on defense since we got here."

The West had it's longest work-out of the season — a full two hours. It was announced that Buddy injured an ankle in Wednes-day's workout, but there is no

some of the West plans. Bill Stei-ger, the versatile Washington State ace, will be called on to perform both offensively and defen-sively in the backfield and prob-North may play most of the

WHILE GROSSCUP and Ptacek will get the starting call at quarterback, Bobby Newman of Washington State for the West and Frank Kremblas of Ohio State for the East are expected to see nearly as much action.

The same holds true for the other backs. Right behind Clark Carlton of Duke. Tom Loreno of Auburn is close on the heels of Haley; and Jon Hobbs of Wisconsin will share the fullback duties Yesterday the West selected Grosscup and guard Charley Horton of Baylor as co-captains.

TO BEAT HART IN TV FISTICUFFS

MIAMI BEACH (IPI) - Knock-out puncher Garnet Sugar Hart of Philadelphia is confident he will upset the odds in a 10-round televised fight against veteran welterweight Ralph Dupas to-night at the Miami Beach Audi-

If he "shows up big," Hart said he will demand a shot at Don Jordan's 147-pound title.

Strangely, Hart is rated a notch above the New Orleans battler in the welterweight di-vision, but Dupas is the 7-5 favorite for the clash, which is the only nationally televised bout of Christmas week on NBC at 7

Vegetable Farmers in Northeastern Section Hope And Pray That Florida's Crops Will Be Spared Freeze By ELMER C. WALZER UPI Financial Editor NEY YORK — (IPI — Vegetable farmers in the Northeastern section of the nation are hoping and praying that Florida's crops will be spared a freeze like the one that lestroyed them early this year. When the cold hit Florida early will 1956, the orange groves were hurt, cattle died on the ranges, and the vegetable crops was wiped out. UNDAUNTED, THE Florida a farmers and the vegetable terops and farmers replanted their crops and series and the vegetable terops are sold out a few weeks before the early northern crops hit the market, especially tomatoes. Here is how farer Peter Bray-miller of Hamburg, New York, explains it: When the cold hit Florida early in 1956, the orange groves were hurt, cattle died on the ranges, and the vegetable crop was wiped out. IN ORDINARY years, Florida farmers replanted their crops are sold out a few weeks before the early northern crops hit the market, especially tomatoes. WE GET HIGH prices for our early intomatoes—the seed and ferfore the early northern crops hit the market, the market that means the difference between a good profit and a poor one, or none at all. WE GET HIGH prices for our early intomatoes—the seed and ferfore the early northern crops hit the market, especially tomatoes.

NOTICE

We have enjoyed our stay in your fair city. However, circumstances force us to leave for another venture. We must LIQUIDATE to the bare walls and no reasonable offer will be refused, on any or all merchandise. When we return it will be as a regular weekend guest to enjoy your lovely climate. This has not been an easy decision for us to make but life is that way. Our loss is your gain-Sincerely, M. REDMAN.

PROCLAMATION

Read Carefully

The City Council of Palm Springs has fully approved our decision to operate this final quitting business sale and we are complying with all rules and regulations. During our remaining 45 days in the Village we hope to sell our entire stock, including fixtures, at fantastic savings. This is a once in a lifetime opportunity to save -save-save. All sales are final-Goodbye and Thank you Palm Springs.
